MAY QUEEN FESTIVAL ST. JOSEPH GYM SUNDAY EVENTFUL OCCASION

Miss Dorothy Tudury as May Queen and Mr. Warwick Harding as King Preside Over Beautiful Court Sunday Evening—Presentation Reveals Scene of Youth And Beauty—Pageantry of Month of Roses.

An eventful and memorable event was the '36 annual May Queen court and festival celebrated at St. Joseph Academy Sunday evening, when the auditorium accommodated an almost capacity crowd. The large assembly was amply repaid for braving the wet weather of the afternoon previous to the festival and dance that followed.

Both stage and auditorium had been decorated to that tasty extent that left nothing undone; to that point where the beautiful interior of the building remained unhidden and the decoration, largely of natural flowers, the glorious gift of the month of May, displayed to advantage.

The May queen celebration is an old institution, but with each recurrent year grows more appealing and never tires the senses of sight and joy. This year was no exception. The court was one of beauty and gallantry. Here was youth in the very zenith of its appeal, girls and children in rare loveliness of charm and dress; young men who unconsciously posed for that great picture of staid and handsome youth which they so well exemplified.

Miss Dorothy Tudury, lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Tudury, was the ideal May Queen. Becoming did she carry the part and won praise and admiration on all sides. Her king was Mr. Warwick Harding, of Pass Christian, but a local student, fitted for the romantic role.

Miss Irmabelle Fahey, attractive and lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Fahey carried the distinction of maid of honor in gracious manner and with all the sweetness of her early girlhood.

There is no room to dwell on costumes in a news article of this kind, suffice to say, the dresses were all new and carried the freshness of the very breath of spring and sheer beauty of the season as well.

The full personnel of the King and Queen and members of the court follow:

Miss Levia Engman made a munificent gift to the Chapel of St. Stanislaus College last week. It consisted of a pair of gold candlesticks stand fifteen inches high and are very ornate. They make a very beautiful appearance upon the Altar.

She also gave a beautiful gold Crucifix, also of very ornate design. This will be used on one of the side altars.

Both Brother William and Brother Bernardine, the Sacristan wish to express their gratitude to Miss Engman for her benefactions.

The car left the road and turned over in a ditch containing about two feet of water. ### THE KILN SCHOOL CLOSES

For 1935-36 Session—Class
Of Eight Graduate—Rev.
Wm. J. Leech and Supt.
McCarthy Main Speakers

Kiln Vocational High School with an enrollment of 300 students closed a successful year's work Wednesday, April 29.

A miscellaneous program was given by the members of the Junior Class with Mr. G. W. Bilbo as sponsor. The play, "The Clay Is The Thing," presented by the members of the Senior Class, sponsored by Miss Zulma Duboussin, was a great success. Wilson Webre who played the part of "Miss America" in a beauty contest acted his part to perfection. The eighth grade graduation exercises were given in the form of a majestic play. The commencement Dilemma which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience.

The most unique part of this program was the delivery of two addresses by high school boys. Arlington Adams, a senior, in his original manner of sincerity made an excellent talk on "The Value of the Human Body." John Wolfe, sophomore, with his oratorical ability, very ably discussed the subject, "The Two Paths." These speeches, very much suited the occasion, were written by the speakers.

The stage represented a rose garden with pink ramblers adorning the back ground. Mrs. L. Z. Seal sponsored the program with the assistance of Miss Idahla Stewart.

For the class night program, the seniors felt very much at ease in expressing the sincere side of life as well as the humorous phase.

Graduation Exercises

Last but not least was the graduation exercises for the members of the twelfth grade. As the seniors, clad in their caps and gowns, marched to the stage, they were led by little Betty Jean Fuentis as flower girl and little Donald Mauffray who carried the diplomas. Rev. Father Wm. J. Leech of Pass Christian, delivered a very impressive address.

Mr. K. G. McCarthy, county Superintendent of Education, made an inspirational speech on "Vocational Guidance." After making a brief but effective talk, Supt. L. Z. Seal delivered the diplomas to the following graduates: Arlington Adams, valedictorian; Herbert Ray Comack; Margie Davis, Hazel Hoda, salutatorian; Howard Ladner, Juanita Lee, Willie Lee; and Wilson Webre. The key of honor was presented to Arlington Adams.

As the Loving Cup which was to be presented to the debating team was delayed in reaching the school, this part of the program was eliminated.

Senior Class Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Seal entertained the members of the Senior Class with their sponsor, on Thursday evening. Many interesting games were enjoyed of which "No" and the searching for fortune souvenirs interwoven in the form of a spider web, proved to be the most successful. The refreshments consisted of delicious home-made ice cream and cake.

Oyster shells, equipment, boats and supplies will be purchased thru the procurement division of the state WPA and labor will be furnished from relief rolls.

IMPORTANCE OF NEW A. A. A. PROGRAM IN HANCOCK COUNTY

County Agent Announces
Sixty Farmers to Date
Have Filed Work
Sheets

J. A. Bozeman County Agent, announces that to date approximately 60 farmers have filed work sheets under the New Soil Conservation Program. He further states that there should be at least 100 farmers in the entire county, who are eligible to participate in this agricultural program and receive the benefits therefrom. Approximately ten meetings have been held in six different communities for the purpose of assisting farmers to file work sheets, and yet some farmers have not seen fit to attend these meetings and find out whether they can qualify under this new Soil Conservation Program or not.

Mr. Bozeman states to The Echo, that the A. A. A. office in Jackson, has set May 20, as the dead line for a farmer to file a work sheet under this new soil conservation program. Mr. Bozeman wishes to urge every farmer to take notice of this closing date and call by his office and fill out the necessary papers in order to be in line to receive the benefits he is entitled to.

He also states that the syrup checks have arrived and that the farmers who executed sugar cane contracts may call at his office and sign for their checks. Promptness in signing for these checks will be greatly appreciated, says the county agent.

School Houses Last Week;
Winners to Bay St. Louis

STANISLAUS PRESIDENT RETURNS

Tells Of Very Interesting
Convention of Catholic Education Association

Brother William, President of St. Stanislaus College, returned Monday of last week from New York, where he attended the annual convention of the National Catholic Educational Association. The headquarters were in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where a number of the meetings were held.

Brother William told the students that he spent an interesting and profitable time while he was away. The first general meeting was held Tuesday morning, April 14, with the President General of the Association, the Most Rev. Francis W. Howard, D. D., Bishop of Covington, Ky., in the chair. The two principal addresses of this session were those by Rev. Edmund Walsh, S. J., of Georgetown University, who spoke on "Education and Freedom under Democracy," and Rev. George Johnson of the Catholic University of Washington, D. C., who spoke on "The Catholic School and American Democracy."

In the first special meeting of the Secondary School Department, held in the Ball Room of the Waldorf-Astoria, two important papers were read and discussed. These were: "An Evaluation of the Catholic High School Curriculum in the Light of Practical Life Situations," and "High School Courses in Sacred Music and Music Appreciation." Both papers were very interesting and suggested some very good ideas.

On Wednesday, four more thought-provoking papers were presented for discussion. These were: (1) "The Need of Courses in Catholic Philosophy of Education for High School Teachers," (2) "The Need and Function of Supervision of Instruction in High School," (3) "Vocational Guidance in the High School," and (4) "Intensive of Extensive Reading in High School English Literature." All of these papers were discussed with much interest and warmth.

Thursday morning's session was devoted to two discussions of Religious subjects, viz: "The Religion Courses for High Schools," and "Recognition and Preservation of the Religious Life Among High School Students." Both papers presented some very forceful ideas for the betterment of present conditions.

Besides the discussions which Brother William attended, many exhibits of new school texts and school supplies were presented in the Cathedral High School. Over sixty publishers of text books and supplies had booths erected, and many of their exhibits were of great interest, Brother William reports.

The State Tax Commission at Jackson during the week was seeking to ascertain how much money it will cost the state to use 1-mill tokens to be used by merchants in "passing on" the retail sales tax.

Though the commission has not yet decided whether or not tokens will be used immediately, in conformity with a recent statute of the legislature, but bids have been asked for on 10,000,000 tokens the number necessary to inaugurate their use.

It is estimated that the tokens would cost the state approximately $30,000, and as no appropriation was made for their purchase, the commission would be required to ask Governor Hugh White to poll the legislature by mail on the subject of purchasing the tokens.

State Seeking Cost Of New Sales Tokens

The closing exercises of Gainesville School will be held Saturday evening, May 9, at the school house, beginning at 7:30.

A three act farce, "Chinty Hocese," by Beulah King, will be presented by the larger pupils under the direction of Mrs. Jeanne Williams. No admission charged.

MOTHER'S DAY FOR ALL MOTHERS

NEXT Sunday is Mother's Day and millions of American children will express affection for their mothers in some tangible way.

This is splendid idea and all of us should appreciate the opportunity it offers. Affection and love for one's own mother is the natural order of living and in some individuals has grown into a veneration for motherhood in general and is marked by increasing concern for the physical well-being of all mothers.

Mother's Day will not have achieved its purpose in our lives until we, as a people, reach that last stage. Unhappily, the number of deaths that accompany motherhood in the United States every year indicates a tragic failure on our part to do all that should be done. Encouraging, however, is the sentiment that has demanded that steps be taken to assure proper safeguards for all mothers and to save the lives of many women needlessly sacrificed each year.

The individual reader of this article may think that his, or her, influence is small, but nevertheless we urge everyone to take some interest in the problem. Certainly civilization has not reached a very high level when such a condition continues to exist without effective protest from children who have grown into maturity and understand the factors involved.

One reason why women can't keep secrets is because they tell them to their husbands.

STANISLAUS BAND SCORES DOUBLY

BAY St. Louis and other places as well wherever St. Stanislaus has friends, and these localities are many, are justly jubilant for another success the college achieved.

Last week at Jackson, St. Stanislaus School Band, in a State-wide tournament won two distinctions, first for marching and second for concert, in classes of their own.

When one considers that every nook and corner of the State, so to speak, was represented and hundreds of contestants assembled at the Capital City, and in a contest where the strictest adherence to rules was insisted, the honor and merits all the more worthy.

Bro. Romuald and Bro. Florian, who accompanied the youthful collegians to the scene of contest, are pardonably proud of their charges, and in noting the success of the musicians it might not be amiss to give a share of honors to the professor who worked so diligently to that point of significance.

Our boys are young. They are not of the kind advanced in physical being for their years, but talented, alert and susceptible to the exactitudes required to make the grade.

Congratulations to the College Band and St. Stanislaus College as well. There is enough honor to go around.

Men who smile at women's clubs probably don't know the amount of serious work that the women's clubs do.

WHAT ABOUT COLLEGE?

SCHOOLS will soon begin to close and a number of young people will go into the business of making money. Too many will stop their scholastic training at the end of their high school days without realizing the tremendous advantage that will come to them by pursuing their way through college.

The Sea Coast Echo does not recommend a college course for every boy and girl. There was a time when people thought this was a good idea, but, undoubtedly, there are some boys and girls who will not take advantage of the educational opportunities that can be obtained. These might as well go to work, whether they are the sons or daughters of rich or poor parents.

At the same time, let us urge all students who will complete their high school courses this summer, to give serious thought to the possibility of attending college. The right institution, and the right personal application, will make a difference in life.

Speaking of news: We wonder if there is any school boy in Hancock county who is sorry that the term is near an end?

WHEN DOLLARS COME HARD

"YOUNG men's dollars" are relatively easy to earn. In the twenties and thirties and forties, when human energy is at its zenith, and mind and body are highly keyed and aggressive, most of us manage to get along without grave difficulties.

"Old men's dollars," to the contrary, come hard. The human being, like a machine runs down. It cannot keep up the pace. Enthusiasm dulls, fatigue sets in. There is no more pitiable object in the world than an old man without savings.

Thus, one of man's greatest problems is to accumulate enough "young dollars," and invest them securely, to provide for the old man he will some day become. No better advice can be given the young man than to tell him to adopt his own old-age security program, through life insurance or a similar agency, at the earliest possible time.

TWO OUTSTANDING BUILDINGS FOR OUR NEIGHBOR

NATURALLY we are justly proud of any improvement along the coast, irrespective of location or how near to Bay St. Louis, affiliated in spirit and willingness to co-operate with all that redounds to the success of the upbuilding of the shores of our Seacoast.

Over at Pass Christian citizens of that place which its people have so appropriately and becomingly called "Nature's Gift to the Coast," they do not only revel in that mark of distinction which stands for beauty and proves an unquestionable asset, but they are rallying to the commercial side of their city, believing that all play and no work is not so good for the general betterment of the place.

Correspondingly, they have from time to time shown evidence of their business enterprise, of their disposition to build for the essential as well as for the aesthetic.

RECENTLY there were completed in the business district of their own town two buildings that are significant in more ways than one. With home capital and home labor they built a theater building, costing approximately, $35,000.00, so stated. This is not only a material advancement but a step forward for the healthful entertainment of the home folk and visitors. A place where people may gather within the most congenial surroundings and enjoy such entertainment that is calculated not only for mere enjoyment but for such pleasure that may prove cultural and otherwise uplifting.

The other structure referred to is one of the more complete service stations to be found on the coast. Not so much for blatant display but for its good lines, proportions and assignment of space. For its convenience afforded and the service offered. Here we find various departments, separated in a measure and over the doorway of each a well-lettered sign of designation.

BUILDINGS of this type mean for permanency and are significant of the type and manner of men who make them possible. It is for this reason patronage as a means of encouragement should be forthcoming. Not only as a deserved reward for the men who have signified their willingness and registered their confidence in the locality so unmistakably but as a means of encouragement; that others may do likewise. May their kind and generation never decrease, but, to the contrary, may their tribe increase.

KING'S DAUGHTERS GROUP CONVENTION

THERE was quite an assembly in Bay St. Louis during the week when members of a unit of International Organization of King's Daughters and Sons met in district conference and in addition to a formal program deliberated and transacted business.

A number of excellent papers were read, short talks, etc. All fostering the splendid work of the organization that knows no creed yet operates internationally in all channels of worthiness in His Name.

It was brought out by one of the local speakers that the hospital had and is serving to advantage—far beyond the expectation for which object it was established, namely, an emergency hospital. It has served to one and many purposes; it has saved more than one life because of the immediate medical assistance it made possible in adequate way to more than scores of victims of accident. Its work has expanded far beyond the confines defined by the term "emergency" and serves the community to fullest extent.

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, State and local president of the order presided at the meeting. She is a constant and constructive worker, and is appreciative of the co-operation and material assistance rendered. Bay St. Louis was honored with this group convention.

SURFACING BAY HIGHWAY BRIDGE

LOCAL travelers and others over the Bay St. Louis bi-county auto bridge are thankful for the treatment recently given the surface of the structure when all upper timbers were double-bolted and the "rattling" of passing vehicles subsequently ceased.

But rows of bolts, with large square heads, have left long line of depression, bolt shaped, over the surface and unless this condition is remedied shortly the bridge will soon begin to splinter, according to authoritative opinion and the condition as existing is wearing out tires unnecessarily.

It appears since the Highway Department has gone so far with successful work, intelligently applied and the matter diligently treated, something further should be done to correct the evil hereinabove referred to.

Possibly, and most probably, the Highway Department has plans for the immediate future and are awaiting favorable opportunity to carry out plans unannounced. We feel certain this work will be done. Possibly the surfacing of the wood decking with a treatment of something that will not only make for a hard and smooth surface but with that resiliency that will avoid cracking or undue expansion or contraction.

IT is not often that The Sea Coast Echo takes this space to call the attention of its subscribers to their subscription accounts.

Nevertheless, the growth and progress of The Echo is entirely dependent upon the prompt renewal of subscriptions, as they expire. ## WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

THE FAMILY PHYSICIAN

(McComb Enterprise)

TOO much praise cannot be given to the family physician. We have many doctors in our midst who should certainly inherit crowns in the land of eternal sunshine.

The Starkville News recently published an editorial on Dr. J. W. Eckford, who has completed forty years of practice in Oktibbeha county. Dr. Eckford is father-in-law to the former Miss Nellie K. Holmes, of McComb. What the News says about this veteran physician of North Mississippi may well be applied to a loyal group of physicians in Southwest Mississippi. The News says:

Dr. J. W. Eckford has just completed forty years of unselfish service to Oktibbeha county. We say unselfish because on fifty per cent of the calls he made he has received no compensation.

He never complains because he is not paid.

He never complains of being tired.

He never complains of being sleepy.

Although at times he is up 36 hours on a stretch.

He never complains because you talk too much.

He never tells you his troubles, although he must have many.

He takes a leading part in all community enterprises and contributes liberally.

He has "delivered" more babies probably than any other doctor in the state and received less money.

Can you help from loving such a man? He knows and loves humanity and when the Master makes the final call his place will never be filled in this community.

Dr. Jim, as he is familiarly known to his friends, can rest on his laurels, but we hope that he has many more years of useful work left.

PENSIONS

A campaign for general pensions for World War veterans has been inaugurated by the National Tribune, a publication founded 60 years ago as the official G. A. R. organ.

HE LOST HIS MONEY

(Daily Enterprise)

A MAN who lives in McComb lost $134.00 in cash last week....A tramp dropped by, asked for something to eat, learned that the family was leaving. It is believed that the tramp returned later. Anyhow, this is the only one suspected of stealing the $134.00 in cash which was hidden under a pillow in one of the beds in his home.

This is just another case of an individual believing that he can enjoy more security outside of a bank than on deposit in one.

The safe place for your money is in a bank. Particularly is this true with the government guaranteeing all deposits up to five thousands of dollars. Yet many people have money buried, hidden in mattresses, under stumps, in lofts, etc. Money held out of circulation not only pays no interest to the owner but it means that recovery is halted to the extent of his money.... Suppose all money was so held out of circulation. It would stifle business and place millions more on the unemployed list. A man's patriotic duty is to use his money or let someone pay him interest for the privilege of using it.

Furthermore $134.00 cash hidden under a pillow is dangerous. Many a man has been murdered for smaller sums than this. Money should bring security to a man but if he carries it about on his person or hides it on his premises it breeds insecurity in its worst form.

COAST SAND SUIT FILED BY STATE

There was filed in Harrison county chancery court in Gulfport a damage suit for $400,000 by J. B. Gully, state tax collector, against W. T. Stewart, Mrs. Grace Jones and Paul Bonham for the alleged removal of approximately 300,000 cubic yards of gravel and sand from Bayou Bernard at Hattiesburg.

The bill of complaint carries prayer for attachment on properties owned by the Stewart interests and seeks to recover the above sum for the state on the grounds that the place from which the gravel was taken was a part of the public domain. State Tax Collector Gully has employed J. O. S. Sanders of Jackson to assist the state in its efforts to recover from the Stewarts and Bonhams.

The Army air corps training center at San Antonio, Texas, is looking for qualified candidates. Unmarried men between 20 and 26 years of age, who meet rigid mental and physical requirements are eligible as cadets.

WOOD SPIRITS

As whisp'ings of some olden tune so faint,
Adown the woods, the winds came murmuring so;
'Twas not a song of joy not of complaint,
So what they really said I do not know.
But I do know that Angels filled the air,
All flitting in the bosom of the sky;
Perhaps they carried thoughts from God up there,
But to their hymnals I could not reply.
Yet sacredness did fill the silent place,
Wooded but by trees in lovely glory spread;
I knew and felt that there was love and grace,
Which God for me in goodness had there shed.

—RIFORD J. LINCOLN.

POLITICAL VIEWS AND REVIEWS

Weekly Political News and Comment by Our Correspondent
JAMES B. GIBSON
Jackson, Miss.

Politics, Indeed!

One of those nation-wide polls reveals that 65 per cent of the people who participate in such things believe there is politics in relief—in the handing of the billions Uncle Sam is spending to relieve distress and destitution. The other 35 per cent is divided even between those who do not believe there is politics in relief and those who express no opinion. Every observant person finds ample proof of politics in relief; the amazing thing is that 35 per cent of the people either do not believe an obvious fact or don't know enough about the subject to express an opinion. If these folk would spend a few weeks in Mississippi, they might learn something.

Both Extremes

Mike Conner certainly swung from one extreme to the other when he picked his campaign manager and his assistant campaign manager. "Buck" Conn (manager) never supported Senator Bilbo in all his life and Heber Ladner (assistant manager) never supported anybody else. It is beginning to look like the pro-Bilbo, anti-Bilbo, pro-Conner, anti-Conner and anti-Harrison forces are in a fair way to effect a fusion for the drive in behalf of the stocky ex-governor. Politics make strange bed-fellows, to be sure, but it also works out some funny combinations.

Guarding the Records

Fear that somebody might try to tamper with the official records and correspondence in the state auditor's office has caused the gasoline tax investigating committee to place a heavy guard over the books, letters, etc., of the gasoline tax department. These records are never out of sight of at least one of the committee's guards, being watched day and night. There was a rumor a few days ago that the committee had received certain information that a plan was afoot to rifle the files for the purpose of removing certain records regarded as damaging to several persons in and out of the auditing department.

Getting The Jump

It may be a little early to start figuring on the 1936 campaign, but it seems that politics is never adjourned in Mississippi and at least three potential candidates for governor have already stuck up their heads to see what sort of missiles will be hurled in their respective directions. Outstanding among the possibilities, of course, is Paul B. Johnson, defeated once and 'lynched' once (using his own expression). Next comes Billy Snider, lieutenant governor, who is as busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant around Thanksgiving trying to 'work out' a Snider (Harrison)-Snider (White)-Snider combination that will win for Snider. In the front of the background is Greek L. Rice, attorney general, whose friends think he is about "ripe" for the governorship. Of course much depends upon this summer's campaign and some of these budding ambitions (or all of them) may be nipped by the first primary frost in August.

For the Old Folks at Home

If Governor White's administration comes under the wire June 30, 1936, with a deficit of a million or so, it can, and probably will be charged up to the babies and the old folks at home. It is noteworthy that the real increase in the state's expenses for the first 30 months of this administration is due almost wholly to the extra money given the common schools and the million which launches the ship of state on the old age pension seas. Many thoughtful and responsible people in and out of the state administration believe that the million for old age assistance is the ship of state by comparison with the gale which will sweep her decks in the next few years. After all, a dollar a week can hardly be expected to solve the old age problem in Mississippi or any other state; that is what our program amounts to.

Most Unkind Cut

In a speech before the MEA in Jackson a few days ago, Governor Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, declared that "the roads and buildings can wait, but the children of this nation cannot wait" for an education. Sounded a little inappropriate in the presence of our own Governor White who counts the inauguration of our road program, involving $400,000,000, the biggest achievement of this administration and who had just told the MEA a few hours before that $11,000,000 was just about all the state could spare the children for two and a half years.

IT'S TRUE!

By Wiley Padan

New York, N. Y.—"IT'S TRUE!" that William Powell ages forty years for his role as Ziegfeld in Metro Goldwyn Mayer's "The Great Ziegfeld," says Wiley Padan. "The time ranges from the age of 25 in 1893 up to Ziegfeld's death."

ON THE WAVES OF IRVING BERLIN MELODY "FOLLOW THE FLEET" DANCES INTO PORT WITH FRED ASTAIRE AND GINGER ROGERS

U. S. Battleship, Frisco Waterfront, Dime-a-Dance Resorts, High Society Backgrounds Make Spectacular Scenes For Song And Terpsichorean Novelties.

In the parlance of the men who write motion picture ad copy, "Follow The Fleet," with the new Astaire-Rogers picture booked for showing at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, May 10 and 11th, is a terrific musical bombshell, with a complete score by Irving Berlin. The music master doesn't come to the screen himself, but his genius floods it from front to back to provide rhythm for the miraculous feet of Astaire and Rogers and infectious lyrics for their voices.

The nimble Astaire and his lithe, Italian-haired partner, have scored three-record smashing hits within the short period of a year. They come to the public with quite a new and bewildering display in "Follow The Fleet."

Astaire sings and dances to "We Saw the Sea" and "I'd Rather Lead a Band." With Miss Rogers he sings and dances to "All My Eggs in One Basket" and "Let's Face the Music and Dance." Miss Rogers has a solo song and dance, "Let Yourself Go," which is reprised with Fred as a dance.

Randolph Scott, who first crashed the big time with the dancing stars in that musical fantasy of Paris, "Roberta," reaches for new laurels in this show. He neither sings nor dances but delivers red-blooded romantic appeal.

All Astaire-Rogers pictures have one or more personality surprises to pop. "Gay Divorcee" was loaded with them. Astaire, Erik Rhodes, Eric Blore, "Roberta" had Scott. "Top Hat" gave Helen Broderick to the screen, and now comes "Follow The Fleet" with Harriet Hilliard, considered by Hollywood the most important find of the year. "Beauty, a lovely figure, a glorious personality that will reach out from the screen to capture any audience," are her assets. She came from the radio and the New York dance bands to play opposite Randolph Scott and for purchase of shells; thirty per cent for fire of boats and equipment, and forty per cent for employment of workers.

The project will be launched as soon as shells and supplies can be purchased through the procurement division, it was announced, and work is expected to start shortly.

This project has been sought by coast citizens for some time, and Senator Pat Harrison has also sent considerable time and effort encouraging approval of the project.

Strangers, and our own people as well, admire and remember the line of a million roses unforgettably.

SPEAKS BEFORE ROTARY CLUB

In addition to a musical number by members of the Bay St. Louis Salon Orchestra, Mr. Henry Capdepon, assistant to the Postmaster, was the program speaker of the evening and for fifteen minutes or more gave a lot of interesting detail about the postoffice, how the work is conducted, rules and regulations, all new to the layman and which everyone, it appears, ought to know. ## MAY QUEEN FESTIVAL PROGRAM OF SUNDAY FAR ABOVE AVERAGE

Miss Lora Mae Ard, of New Orleans, Acrobatic Dancer, Is Veritable Marvel

For the edification of the royal couple and their court of the Queen of May festival at St. Joseph Academy, Sunday evening, a well-balanced program was presented, and which served to the enjoyment of the audience as well.

This entire program was directed by that gentleman so familiar with the artistry and success of the stage, C. J. Gordon, of Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman and Mrs. Palmissano, both of Bay St. Louis were pianists of the evening.

Selections from the Salon Orchestra added extra charm to the atmosphere of the occasion. The group of musicians is composed of Mrs. Katherine Thomas, Mrs. Roland J. Weston, Mr. Rene de Montluzin, Jr., with Mrs. Goldman.

One of the features of the program was the appearance of young Miss Lora Mae Ard, of New Orleans, and no stranger to Bay St. Louis. Miss Ard is featured as an acrobatic dancer, a pupil of the Ford School of Dancing at New Orleans. She has appeared time and again and so marvelous is her dancing and acrobatic accomplishment that the press has given her unusual space and commendation. Ripley, of "Believe It Or Not" has inscribed Miss Ard's name in his famous gallery of pictures and records of unusual feats.

Miss Ard danced with expression and beauty and combined with her act gave a number of acrobatic presentations that must have, if any, few parallels. Miss Ard's number added to the program appreciably.

She danced a later number, an adagio, with her young uncle, Nevette Gardebled, that was exquisitely performed, with all the rhythm and grace that marked it as outstanding.

The High Kick Waltz was another stage dance, pleasing and with winsome manner. Performing this number the group of young Misses included Rena Nelson, Bertha Koch, Eunice Tudury, Robbie Arceneaux, Cecilia Osioinach.

Miss Helen Grethe gave a vocal solo with all the beauty of her youthful voice and the charm of her personality.

The Echo is authorized to announce that the net proceeds of this benefit, for the Memorial Hall building debt fund, will go over the $400.00 mark. And the Sisters of St. Joseph are thankful and appreciative.

Death of Mrs. John Ramoneda at New Orleans Tuesday P. M.

The Echo regrets to note the death of that splendid woman, Mrs. John Ramoneda, of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, which occurred at her home at 1211 First street, New Orleans Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

She was a native of Barcelona, Spain, aged 65 years, a resident of New Orleans for the past 42 years. The family spent the greater part of the year at their South Beach Boulevard home, near the Waveland line, and were preparing to rebuild one of their properties which has been destroyed by fire during the winter.

In addition to her husband, several sons, and daughters, survive. The funeral took place Thursday morning, with a requiem high mass at St. Alphonsus church.

The family are plunged into deep grief over this unexpected passing away of the one to whom they were devoted, an ideal wife and mother. And the friends sympathize with them in their irreparable loss.

BUILDING CHAPEL

Work of construction on the building of the new chapel for St. Augustine's Seminary has started and already the brick walls are fast taking shape, with window frames in place. This is built to remove the space recently occupied in the main building of the seminary, to make room for larger dormitory accommodations. The new building is both spacious and substantial and faces Ulman avenue, (Old Spanish Trail). It will be easier at access to outsiders who may wish to worship there on occasion of regular services. This is one of the several major buildings in course of construction over the city.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

REVIEW OF THE MONTH CLUB TO HOLD MEET MAY 19

Positoned From the 12th Members Wish to Attend Ordination of Rev. C. S. Liles on Former Date

Several members, including some of the officers, of the Review of the Month Club have expressed their desire to attend the ordination of the Rev. Charles S. Liles on the morning of May 12. For that reason, the regular meeting of the club will be held in the rooms of the Hancock County Free Library on Tuesday, May 19, at ten thirty. The book reviewed at that time will be Dr. C. W. Haggard's "Devils, Drugs, and Doctors," and the speaker will be Mr. Carl Marshall.

The library workers are staging a three-weeks campaign to obtain subscriptions for Holland's "The Magazine of the South." The Hancock County Free Library will benefit directly by every subscription taken and prepaid; and only the library personnel are authorized to solicit subscriptions in this vicinity. The benefit to the local institution is in proportion to the success of the campaign—the more paid-in subscriptions, the larger the percentage of commission by which the library funds will be swelled. The cost of this attractive periodical is surprisingly low, 50 cents for one year, $2.00 for a five-years' subscription.

Aside from books, the Library has a delightfully different gift to record this week. Every bowl or vase in the quiet reading rooms is today filled with fragrant pink roses. Clem Penrose, Jr., was the thoughtful person who brought them in. Gifts of books include eleven volumes from Mrs. Anita Tipping of Pass Christian and Stark Young's "So Red The Rose," given by Mrs. E. J. Hale. The free shelves have also obtained a new book, Mastery of Sex Through Psychology and Religion, by Leslie D. Weatherhead.

We have chronicled in increasing number the titles of the new books added weekly to the library shelves. As this golden weather advances and we more and more sense the delightful feeling which Riley called "knee-deep in June," do not forget that these new titles are by no means all the library offers. In long rows the stand-by friends of two or more generations invite your inspection. There are few things more satisfactory on a warm day than to long chair on the gallery and a book you have read with enjoyment years ago. That book you have always wanted to read again is probably waiting for you in the cool rooms of the Hancock County Free Library.

AMATEUR NIGHT AT UNCLE CHARLIE'S SCORES SUCCESS

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club scored another triumph last Saturday featuring the Amateur Contest. The audience testified to the popularity of this feature and by request, it will be repeated on May 18th.

The trio of home girls, Miss Anderson, Miss Maurigi and Miss Seuzeneau are talented, and though they will go far in the musical world, if they continue and Bay St. Louis is justly proud of them. Miss Martinez of Biloxi won first place, she has a charming personality and the audience showed its appreciation by the applause given to her efforts to please.

WATER

We have little conception nowadays of the reasons which actuated our forefathers in selecting towns sites, and some interesting stories are being collected from forgotten records by WPA writers who are preparing articles for the American Guide. This Government-sponsored travel handbook will feature the traditions which go to make up the background of our population centers, big and little.

An odd story of the sort has been prepared for the Guide by W. D. McClain, a writer assigned to Putnam County, Tenn. While the first essential for a town site in the old days may have been ground to build on, hardly second in importance was water. When Putnam County needed a county seat, the elders of the section started to canvass the sources of water available.

Charles Crook owned a tract of land in the center of which was a fine big spring and the naturally wanted to see the proposed county seat built around it. The spring was his chief drawing card and he made the most of it. His opponents, of course, made their main attack on the spring.

Partisans of a rival town site spread the report that Crook's spring often went dry in the summer. The chief men of the county finally met at the Crook property and literally put the spring on trial. The choice of the site was to hinge on whether the natural well was "guilty" or "not guilty." Witnesses were called upon to testify.

The spring's reputation was cleared and the commissioners purchased 40 acres from Crook for the modest sum of $100. Crook's spring became the "Town Spring" of Cookeville. Year after year, its cool, clear water bubbled up to quench the thirst of the villagers. Evenings, the people congregated about to drink and gossip.

Half a century passed and the village became a town with a regular water system. Jere Whitson, a civic leader, built a stone house over the spring, and within its shrine, it still bubbles on. Few members of the present generation, motoring by the miniature park in which it stands, have the least idea that it alone was responsible for Cookeville, that without it the town would have been built in an entirely different part of the county and called "Monticello," as the first act of the State Legislature provided.

TOURIST CAMP

Thousands of tourists visiting the National Capitol stop at the Government's Tourist Camp, in sight of the Capitol and the Washington Monument. Open all the year, it has 132 cabins, each accommodating from 2 to 6 persons. The rush occurs during the summer months, when advanced registrations are necessary to avoid disappointment. Tourists are permitted to use the camp for a maximum of two months.

FOREIGN TRADE

Foreign trade for the first quarter disclosed an import surplus of $5,387,000, largely due to purchases of silver which amounted to $63,504,000.

UP TO PRESIDENT

Adjournment of Congress early next month depends upon what the President does. With Congress drifting along, he will have to assume direction of pending legislation if there is to be an early end of the session.
